

There are three categories of event which are:

- Formal
- Informal
- Semi-formal

Based on the information above, answer these question:

1. List 5 examples of events under each category and provide a picture of each event.

Formal event

- Convocation ceremony

- Wedding ceremony

- Honorary Title Conferment Ceremony

- Art exhibition

- Academic conference

Informal event

- Usrah meeting

- Street photography meetup

- Evening group recreation

- Family dinner

- Family day

Semi-formal event

- Neighborhood gotong-royong

- Birthday celebration

- Bachelorette party

- Webinar

- Ted Talk

2. List several characteristics of each event category.

Formal event

- Strict dress code.
- Have higher and strict protocol.
- Usually have respective guests or public figures such as the Prime Minister or royalties.
- Have specific and clear objectives.
- Does not organize frequently. Probably once a year or twice.

Informal event

- Flexible dress code.
- Less protocol.
- Guests usually are normal people like friends or family members.
- Usually for leisure and fun without clear objectives.
- Can be conducted frequently like every weekend.

Semi-formal event

- Dress codes are less strict than formal events.
- Protocol is enough only to make sure the event runs smoothly.
- Probably have guests with a specific position.